

Fire Does Heavy Damage To Shadowland Theatre, Ellenville, Early Today

Alarm Rang in at 2:50 o'clock
This Morning—Loss Put Conservatively Between $40,000 to $50,000.

PARTIAL COVERAGE

Manager Says Loss Partly Covered by Insurance—Improvements Just Finished.

Fire, which was discovered before 3 o'clock this morning, did extensive damage to the interior and rear portion of Shadowland Theatre at Ellenville.

Exact estimates of the loss could not be had this morning, but $40,000 or $50,000 is considered a conservative figure. The total may considerably exceed that amount.

The fire evidently started under the stage, destroyed the stage and equipment, the proscenium opening, then ran up and spread between the double roof, making it necessary to flood the entire of the theatre proper, ceiling and side walls being ruined either from fire or water and badly damaging the recently installed seats. The pipe organ and piano were also destroyed.

It was 2:50 when the alarm was given, bringing out the three village fire companies. It was about 4 o'clock before the fire was brought under control, but the firemen were still on duty at 7 o'clock this morning, watching for any renewal of the blaze, particularly among the roof timbers, which had presented a stubborn problem. Chief C. G. A. Fisher, with Assistant Fire and Litchford, directed the firemen in their work of bringing the blaze under control.

$30,000 Improvements
Manager John Spadaro had just completed improvements to the theatre at an expenditure of $25,000 or $30,000. These included entire new seating equipment, redecorating the interior and modern acoustics.

Mr. Spadaro carried $31,000 insurance on building and contents, the Traveler's Agency carrying $26,500 and the Dunlop Agency $5,000. This insurance does not, however, cover the seats.

Shadowland Theatre was erected about 17 years ago by the Shurtz Theatre Co., the late Silas S. Shurtz being one of the original promoters and members of the corporation. The present owner, John Spadaro, who was one of the original stockholders, took over the property about 14 years ago and has since conducted the business. It is understood that the theatre has been doing an excellent business.

The original cost of the theatre and equipment was around $100,000. The building is of brick with steel ceiling beams and a double roof, a galvanized iron roof having been put on some time since, above the Barrett specification roof, which was put on the building when it was erected. It was the fact that the fire spread between these two roofs that made its control difficult.

So far as could be determined this morning the brick walls and steel girders are unharmed, but much of the overhead woodwork is probably burned completely or so badly that it will have to be replaced.

Will Repair at Once
Manager Spadaro said this morning that work of rebuilding and redecorating and replacing equipment destroyed would begin at once and be rushed to completion as soon as possible. It will probably take two or three months, at the best, to repair the damages caused by the fire, but Mr. Spadaro hoped to make temporary repairs that would allow him to reopen for business inside of 30 days. The front part of the theatre, including the lobby, was not touched by the flames and it is possible that the side walls of the theatre proper may be repaired without making a complete replacement necessary.

A communicating building, three stories high, containing an unoccupied store, two living apartments and the Corzina photograph studio, was not injured by the fire, but there was more or less damage from smoke which seeped through from the burning theatre.

Fine and Jail Sentence
Harold Bukey, 26, of Ashokan, was arrested Saturday by State Troopers Dunn and Wright on a charge of violation of Section 12, Paragraph 4, of the Vehicle and Traffic Law. The arrest took place at Ashokan and when arraigned before Justice Lester A. Davis a four day jail sentence and a $10 fine was imposed.

Toscanini Wins
Vienna, Nov. 22 (AP)—Conductor Arturo Toscanini apparently had a major victory in his credit today in his war against Nazi ostracism of artists for racial and religious reasons.

The official program of the 1938 Salzburg music festival omitted the name of Wilhelm Furtwaengler, Prussian state opera director, who was one of the festival's big attractions last summer.

Local Lions Club Sponsors Junior Band, Orchestra

The Kingston Lions Club has started its fall work with much vigor and enthusiasm and with the project in hand well organized it is fair to assume that progress will be steady and highly commendable. This civic interest is being centered around the Lions Junior Band and Orchestra under the direction of Roger Baer, who organized this unit last year and presented it to the public at a recital in the Kingston Theatre, where it won great praise.

The Kingston Lions have assumed the responsibility of developing a Junior musical aggregation of both boys and girls between the ages of 10 to 16, who have had musical training in the instruments used in the orchestra and band, promoting concerts by the band throughout the county and in Kingston itself.

These young people have progressed exceptionally fast and their music is already a treat to listen to. For several weeks they have been rehearsing at the Governor Clinton Hotel and in the Musicians Headquarters in the Leventhal Building on Wall street on Sundays. Parents of the members of the band have been greatly interested in this venture and the rehearsals are always well attended. At present, there are 44 youths associated with this group and more are expected to be added before the winter is through. As these players pass the age of 16 they leave the band and additions are made from the group becoming 10 years of age. The interest shown by the children is best illustrated perhaps by the fact that they religiously attend the rehearsals.

A second branch of this venture is the choir of 24 mixed voices, which is also under Mr. Baer's direction. This choir will accompany the orchestra at its concerts, rendering fine vocal numbers especially arranged for this group by Mr. Baer.

The first concert of the Lions Junior Band and Orchestra will be presented at the Fleischmanns High School Auditorium on December 10, to aid the graduating class of the school raise money for their graduation expenses. From present reports it is hoped that the band will be fully outfitted in new uniforms by the first of the year, which will add greatly to the enthusiasm of the youngsters. Director Baer expressed his satisfaction with the progress made and is sure they will do credit to Kingston and to themselves.

It is planned that this Lions Junior Band and Orchestra will travel to Long Island during the first of the year to play at the Long Island Regional Convention and great hope is expressed that they will have developed enough to be chosen for this honor. In the meantime, rehearsals will go on and these young people will be given a chance to develop musically as they probably otherwise would not have a chance to do. The Kingston Lions Club has pledged itself to give them every opportunity to display their ability and receive this instruction.

Esopus Youth Treed By Two Vicious Dogs; Monastery Loses Pigs

William O'Brien of Esopus, a young lad with an ambition to trap, has found that one does not have to go north of the Arctic circle to encounter vicious animals with blood-thirsty traits. Had it not been for a convenient tree Sunday O'Brien might have been a far sadder tale to tell. As it is he can recount a tale of having been treed by two vicious police dogs, one of which snapped at him and caught him in the ankle as he made a hasty retreat up a tree to avoid bodily injury.

Last Friday the manacled at St. St. Alphonsus monastery at Esopus called Sheriff Molyneux and said that some time during the previous night dogs had entered the college grounds and killed one pig and chewed a dozen others so badly that they had to be killed. Sheriff Molyneux asked the co-operation of the owners in reporting the appearance of any strange dogs on the premises. Apparently the property had been visited by some of the "wild dogs" which have been doing much damage to live stock in various sections of the county, particularly in Marlborough, Hurley and Rosendale.

Starts Own Investigation.
Young O'Brien however determined to do a bit of investigating himself so he left the dead pig where it fell in the college orchard, and placed several traps around the carcass in the hopes that the marauding dogs might return.

His reward came. He visited his traps and saw three dogs. Believing the dogs were in the traps he closed in and with a shot from his gun disposed of one large vicious police dog which bore no license tag. However he failed to take proper recognition of the other two dogs which came to the rescue of their fallen companion. These two dogs were not in traps and took after young O'Brien, who beat a hasty retreat and climbed a convenient tree just in time to escape the vicious attack of the two dogs. One of the dogs snapped his ankle as he mounted the tree which fortunately had a conveniently low crotch and was easy to climb.

Dogs Frightened
Treed for a time, the lad finally was able to get down when the dogs were frightened off. Sheriff Molyneux was notified and this morning he with Deputy Vredentz and Elsworth went to the scene and for over four hours waited in the hopes the two remaining dogs would return to the scene, where they had killed the one pig and wounded others. They failed however to return.

Anyone observing these unlicensed dogs will confer a favor by notifying the sheriff or by disposing of the vicious animals. The dog which O'Brien shot was a large female police dog and wore no license.

At Prey
Unlike the pack of dogs which has done over $1,000 damage to stock in the vicinity of Cottekill, the three dogs at Esopus killed the stock and then returned to the scene to eat their prey. The pack in Cottekill worked like a pack of wolves, killing a large flock of chickens but remaining to eat none.

The fact that these animals usually begin to operate shortly before winter sets in has led many, including Sheriff Molyneux, to believe that the offending dogs may be stray dogs which have been released by summer folks who bring the dogs up from the city to act as watch dogs during

National Grange Announces Farm Program for 1938

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—The National Grange announced today its 1938 "platform for agriculture." 12 planks based on conclusions reached at the organization's recent 74th annual meeting.

The platform was not intended to represent only the interests of Grange members, but farmers throughout the country. Copies were sent to all members of congress.

The Grange believes that farmers themselves in each group should determine the program best suited for their needs, the preamble said, and objects to any move that would deprive them of this right.

The platform planks included: The American farmer is entitled to equality of opportunity and to a fair share of the national income. There must be no legislation enacted which would result in either immediate or eventual regimentation of the American farmer.

The American market should be restored to the American farmer to the limit of his ability to produce efficiently; there should be no curtailment of crop production that would place him at a disadvantage, and imports should be limited to those things which he cannot supply; agriculture should be given equal protection with labor and industry under the tariff and those reciprocal trade treaties which are harmful to the farmer should be repealed.

No Production Control
The Soil Conservation Service should be continued to help the farmer improve his land and diversify his crops, but it must not be used as a means to production control.

The family-sized farm should be protected, in soil conservation benefits and taxation, on the same principle that provides basic exemptions for small incomes and basic taxation upon ability to pay.

Balance the budget; insist upon economy and efficiency in local, state and federal government; eliminate and avoid duplication of public services; protect the taxpayer, and keep in mind that for everything asked of government the taxpayer must pay the bill.

Foster cooperation and goodwill between government, labor, industry and agriculture; create confidence, so that recovery may go forward, the wheels of business may turn faster, more people may be employed and more consuming power created.

Encourage world peace by strict neutrality, avoiding entangling alliances of wars of aggression, provide armament adequate for defense, take profit out of war by conscripting wealth and industry as well as manpower.

Mrs. Myers Badly Injured in Auto Crash on Icy Road

Mrs. Ella Myers of 64 South Manor avenue is in the Charlotte Hungerford Hospital in Torrington, Conn., with a possible fracture of the skull suffered in an automobile accident Sunday morning.

Miss Minnie Myers, her daughter, driver of their 1937 Oldsmobile sedan, was not injured, but is at the hospital where she is being treated for shock.

State Patrolman Cote of Canaan, Conn., said his investigation of the accident revealed that the Myers car skidded on snow-covered pavement and crashed into a fence. A rail of the fence crashed through the windshield and struck Mrs. Myers on the head.

Mrs. Joseph Smith of Washington avenue, sister of Mrs. Myers, left Kingston this morning for the hospital.

GENTHER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO DRIVING CHARGE

Stephen Genther, 28, of 151 Washington avenue, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving Sunday morning by Rufus Buck of Poughkeepsie, Pa., following an accident near Herman's Grave on the floodable road. The two cars collided and Mrs. Genther under arrest and turned him over to State Trooper Arthur Reilly and Deputy Sheriff White and O'Brien, who were summoned to make an investigation. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bader the defendant was held in $100 bail on his plea of not guilty. He will have a hearing Wednesday.

BLAST ROCKED CITY ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon the city was rocked to such an extent that chairs in the houses tipped and dishes rattled in the closets. Householders sitting at the radio enjoying the program thought that there was an earthquake. The shaking was caused by a blast of dynamite set off that afternoon by the Callahan Road Improvement Company at Mingo Hollow. Inquiry at the company office brought out the statement that the blast set off was not as large as previous blasts that had been discharged.

FREEZING WEATHER SET IN AFTER SNOWSTORM

The first real snowstorm of the season broke over Kingston on Saturday, but on the sidewalks and streets the snow melted as fast as it fell. Sunday morning when residents awoke it was under a white blanket of snow. Freezing weather followed the snow and ice formed Sunday night. Today there was but little snow left to be seen. The coldest recorded Sunday by the official city thermometer was 22 degrees above zero, and the coldest today was about 5 o'clock this morning when the city thermometer recorded 30 degrees above.

The two cars collided and Mrs. Genther under arrest and turned him over to State Trooper Arthur Reilly and Deputy Sheriff White and O'Brien, who were summoned to make an investigation. ## Authorities Are Probing the Death Of Rita Genther

Rita Bernice Genther, daughter of Christopher E. Genther of 42 First avenue, died under rather unusual circumstances in the town of Ulster on Saturday night. The girl would have been 16 years old if she had lived until March. Following the death of the girl an autopsy was performed and the cause of death given on the death certificate filed with David Klefer, town clerk of the town of Ulster, is that of criminal abortion. The death of the girl is now under investigation by the county authorities.

Besides her father the girl is survived by a sister, Mrs. Joseph Brazee of Kingston, and five brothers, Frederick, Stephen, Joseph and Leo, all of Kingston, and Francis of Port Jervis. Funeral services will be held from the home of Mrs. Brazee on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and thence to St. Peter's Church where services will be held at 9:30 o'clock with burial in St. Peter's Cemetery.

This list will be submitted at the next council meeting for authorization to charge the various amounts against the properties to be collected in next year's general tax.

Ace Nipponese Pilot Flies Over Generalissimo's Chief City Today, Is Chased by Chinese Aircraft

WUSHI TAKEN

One of Last Strongholds of Nanking Defenses Falls Today

Shanghai, Nov. 22 (AP)—Japan urged Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today to surrender. A message was dropped to him by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chungking, about 1,000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped, only the message urging cessation of hostilities. It was released from a plane flown by Lieutenant Morichitani Nango, one of Japan's ace pilots.

Chinese pursuit planes attacked the Japanese flyers in a vertiginous, engaging them in spectacular dogfights over Nanking. One Japanese scout plane crashed. The Japanese airmen, apparently trying to determine the strength of the remaining air force, were taken by surprise. The aerial defenses, however, included little anti-aircraft fire, which was interpreted as a possible indication some batteries had been shifted to Chungking; and Hankow to protect the new government headquarters in those cities.

The Japanese plane fell to earth in flames when it was caught unawares by an extraordinarily fast Chinese pursuit craft unlike any the Chinese have used before.

Mistaken for Japanese.
The new Chinese fighting craft resembled their Japanese foe more than the types of Chinese planes seen until now. They were now, apparently, that puzzled around defenses and siren operators mistook them for Japanese. The danger signals wailed long after the raiders had gone. With 50 new fighting craft known to have been flown to China's interior from Russia, it was believed this was the debut of reinforcements for China's shattered air forces.

The mysterious message "advise" Chiang to end China's resistance and to surrender himself to the Japanese. A Japanese spokesman acknowledged that a "personal message" had been dropped at Nanking but would not disclose its text.

Although the Japanese sought to cloak the maneuver in secrecy, foreign observers regarded it as an effort to win a bloodless capitulation of the evacuated capital and the generalissimo's surrender.

Wushi Captured
Japanese reported capture today of Wushi, one of the last strongholds of China's Nanking defenses.

Japanese land and air forces began a concerted drive against the entrenched Chinese on a line north from Wushi to Kiangnan, on the Yangtze river. They were aided by fine weather after a week of rain.

Wushi, at the south end of the line west of Shanghai, controls important communication and supply lines on the Shanghai-Nanking railroad and China's ancient Grand Canal.

Japanese declared the drive would bring their army to the gates of Nanking, China's evacuated capital, before the end of the week.

Faint prospects of a last-minute settlement were shattered by Yu Yu-Jen, president of the National Control Yuan, one of the five ruling councils of the central government. Yu declared China has absolutely no intention either to seek peace or to compromise with Japan.

He said there were two reasons for the government's removal from Nanking to Chungking, about 1,000 miles farther inland: "To avoid a situation in which Japan might be in a position to dictate peace terms; to demonstrate China's determination to continue resistance on a larger scale."

Zoo Calendar
If you ask a Kirghiz his age he may reply, "I was born in the year of the Dog, and have lived five rounds," for these nomad tribes of Mongol-Tartar descent know nothing of our Western calendar. They have a system of their own, dividing time into "rounds," consisting of 12 of our years. Each round is subdivided into 12 parts named after an animal. Hence you will hear of "the year of the Snake," "the year of the Horse," or "the year of the Bear."

Marten Steals Its Nest
According to Louis Figuer, the naturalist, the pine marten, now rare in most sections, lives in the densest of forests. When the female is on the point of giving birth to her young, she looks out for a squirrel's nest, and having surprised and devoured the proprietor, installs herself therein.

In some states the law requires that hotel sheets measure 105 inches in length.

OUR WAR LIMITS

War declarations in the past have been left to the federal government, depending on the discretion of the President and Congress. Public opinion has been counted on to support such action, and has usually done so. But the people have had no immediate authority in the matter. They could not interfere except by expressing their verdict informally at a regular election.

Senator La Follette proposes in change that and empower the people themselves to declare or prevent war. He proposes an amendment to the federal constitution requiring a national referendum before the government can declare war. He makes two exceptions, however. No such referendum would be required in case of a foreign attack upon the United States, or the invasion by a foreign power of any other North American or Caribbean country.

The first of these exceptions may be wise. If our country were subjected to armed attack from any foreign quarter by land, sea or air, of course we would fight back. Immediate self-defense would be necessary; we could not wait for a referendum and would not need one. The second reservation is doubtful. We might agree, as a matter of permanent policy, that we would help repel a foreign invasion of Canada or Mexico, because our safety is directly involved in theirs. But fight automatically for any Central American or West Indian country? That would be a large order and a perilous one.

GOOD HOMES SPREAD.

If slums have a tendency to spread out, infecting good neighborhoods, so do good housing groups tend to spread and improve neighborhoods. This has been proved in both public and private projects. A good example is the Hillside project in New York, a pioneer enterprise handled with private capital some years ago. Built in a very unattractive area, it attracted so much new construction that in a few years it was the center of a prosperous settlement of 15,000 people.

How a modern housing group will affect adjacent slums appears in a Cleveland project, completed a few months ago, and filled with 650 families. A newspaper investigator reports that the residents take pride in keeping their apartments clean, bright and pleasant, and the children are surprisingly well behaved. Moreover, the influence of order, cleanliness and good taste spreads quickly across the street and through neighboring blocks. Old stores paint up and build new fronts. Buildings are remodeled and bakeries and beauty parlors are established. Ramshackle restaurants are demolished. New building starts and spreads surprisingly. Neighbors try to live up to the new example. Thus the housing group becomes the center of new development.

TRADE—NOT TERRITORY

Former Prime Minister Arthur Meighen of Canada is one of the statesmen who are quite unimpressed by the demand of Germany, seconded by Italy, for restoration of colonies lost in the World War. He tells an American audience it is trade, not territory, that a nation needs.

Germany, like other crowded and highly industrialized countries, cannot endure having trade throttled. It is just as bad when they throttle their own trade—which is what Germany seems to be doing—when they have it throttled by other nations. He urges that what is wrong with Germany today is mainly her policy of economic self-sufficiency, combined with self-destructive armament.

As far as former colonies are concerned, he points out that Germany or any other nation today can only get goods and raw materials from colonies—her own or those of any other power—by buying them. The British have to buy what they import from their mandated German colonies in Africa, and the Germans are as free to buy there today as they were before they lost those colonies. As a matter of fact, Germany is buying imports from them now, as she used to, and can buy more if she has the means.

Colonies today, he argues, are useful only for national pride and military power, not for economic needs. All that is required for the latter is a loosening of trade restrictions, whereby all the nations, particularly industrial nations, unlimited in raw materials like Germany, can gain the means to import the things they need.

POPULATION.

On July 1 of this year, says the Federal Census Bureau, there were in the United States 123,257,000 people. This is not a count but an estimate. It may be accepted, however, as somewhere near the truth. The gain for the preceding year was 228,000 a little more than the exports expected. By next July we shall number more than 123,000,000.

And then what? Most of the forecasts lately have assumed a rapid tapering off, with our population coming to a standstill about the time the babies now being born are ready to marry. But nobody knows about that, and the statisticians may be wrong. Growth of population depends a good deal on economic conditions, on prosperity and opportunity. Given a few prosperous and fairly stable years, our birth rate would probably start up again.

INSULIN

Although insulin is known as the remedy that keeps diabetics alive it has been used for other conditions during the past five years, one of which is malnutrition. Malnutrition—"mal" meaning poor—is when the individual is underweight, is weak, and has a poor appetite. Research workers have found that in many of these cases, insulin stimulates the appetite and other body processes so that the individual eats more, puts on firm flesh and becomes more active mentally and physically.

Naturally, with such excellent results physicians in various countries are using insulin in any and all types of cases where undernourishment is an outstanding symptom. However, that insulin is not without danger in treating cases of tuberculosis is reported by Dr. P. Ellman in The Practitioner, London, who emphasizes that insulin is not to be regarded as a cure of pulmonary (lung) tuberculosis. The use of insulin in cases of advanced tuberculosis is really dangerous. "A patient whose appetite is poor, who fails to put on weight, who has no rise in temperature, whose disease shows no gross evidence of activity and with whom the usual measures have failed to correct these symptoms—no appetite, loss of weight—is a suitable case for insulin."

Dr. Ellman has avoided using insulin when there is fever, active lung condition—cough with mucus and pus—vomiting, marked low blood pressure, or where severe reactions follow the use of insulin. It has been his practice to begin the course of treatment with a hypodermic injection of five units of insulin. This is given twenty minutes before the principal meal and is followed three hours later by a glass of milk or a tablespoon of dextrose to avoid any risk of the sugar in the blood becoming too low in amount. The dose is gradually increased so that by the end of six weeks 30 units is being injected daily.

The point then is that insulin is excellent treatment for underweight and malnutrition except in cases of tuberculosis which are in an active state. There may be other conditions also where your physician may think it wise to withhold insulin.

Two's Company

Nina, ex-debutante, impulsively married David, hoping to end her love for her stepfather. Now she appreciates David and is disgusted with Richard.
 Richard, the charming well-tailored stepfather, proposed secret love to Nina.
 Nancy, Nina's gay, childish mother, is wild about Richard.
 David, a bright young auto salesman with a small salary, adores Nina.
 Gracie, an old girl friend of David, still pursues him.

Chapter 43 Falling in Love

AFTER David, too, had had a slight and much needed builder-upper with the girls, he exclaimed: "Whew! what an afternoon! Little David with a breath on him like a brewery, demonstrating a closed car, to somebody's Aunt Minnie... aged 70. And the floats... what a case of the floats! I was glad when she insisted on having the windows up, I was afraid I might just drift out of one."
 "David," explained Nina, "was a verve bad boy last night."
 "Your partner in crime was just here, my friend," remarked Cordelia, naughtily.
 "Who—Jack? Oh—Gracie. Really?" He didn't seem to care much.

Nina was falling in love. It was the most extraordinary thing.

one way or the other, which was a nice sign.
 Nina knew that Cordelia would notice and she was glad. In spite of her having a little Gracie had looked quite darling in a new party hat and a suit with a diminutive jacket.

"To cap the climax," David went on, leaning up against the mantel, "there was a car in front of us, all the way round the park, with a very dusty metal tire cover on the back. Some little boy had printed in the dust, 'Sammy stinks!'"
 Just like that, a terse statement. Sammy stinks! I tried to pass the darn thing and Aunt Minnie, the poor girl, looked everywhere but at it... but the car stuck in front of us like a leech.
 Cordelia and Nina were howling. "Finally it got to a point where you couldn't ignore it, so I said 'Pity—what?' and 'David, you didn't?'"
 "Sure, I did, and Aunt Minnie..."
 "David, you didn't tell it to her, after that!"
 And he said again: "Sure, I did! And Aunt Minnie said: 'My, my, boys will be boys!'"

And he said again: "Sure, I did! And Aunt Minnie said: 'My, my, boys will be boys!'"
 He took another drink. "I'll tell you whose Aunt Minnie she was, Nina. Remember that Carstairs fellow, whom I handled so brilliantly—sold a new car to, when he wanted to rent a second-hand? Well it was his Aunt Minnie. Well, girl, 'Swell, David,' corrected Cordelia.

"Wotta-man Day!" he agreed modestly.
 Presently, Cordelia had to go, and they parted, shouting: "Sammy stinks!" and "Remember, poor Sammy!" at each other, like ridiculous infants.
 Nina felt that she shouldn't feel so happy... that she hadn't the right.
 "David, lamb... would you, by any chance, feel like kissing me?"
 And her heart gave a totally unexpected, and vigorous thump in her breast... because David—would.

Little Things About Him

NINA was falling in love. It was the most extraordinary thing.
 She told herself how fine David was—how much finer than Richard, how their only hint of trouble had been money trouble...

Ramblin' Notes About the Town

Taxes seem to be the big subject troubling the government just now. First off it was thought a nice idea to soak the rich but it has been found that by the time they had soaked the rich there was still a deficit, and the latest reports from the seat of government is to the effect that they are about to tax those who are not rich. The guy or the girl who is pulling down $15.50 a week or more is going to be asked to chip into the government spending basket, while the married man will only escape if he is making less than $38.50 a week.

Heretofore the tax question has not bothered the little fellow in any great extent. At least he did not think so for the average little fellow could not seem to get it through his head that he was paying taxes, and plenty of taxes in proportion to what he was making.

But, and here was the joker, they were what is known as hidden taxes. Every time he bought a smoke, went to see a show, or indulged in any little luxury he was chipping in a cent here and a cent there.
 Every time he sat down to a meal in his own home he was paying a tax on practically everything he ate. If he bought gas and oil for his car—if he was fortunate enough to own a car—he was chipping into the government's spending basket.
 No matter which way he turned; what he did or what he did not do he was chipping in a penny here and a penny there, and in a year's time those pennies accumulated to quite a pile of money.

All that flow of cents from Mr. and Mrs. Individual accounted for a huge sum at the end of each year, but it still is not sufficient to meet the cost of government.

The trouble is that the average individual has come to believe that Uncle Sam is a Santa Claus. But, as in real life, someone has to pay for the gifts that Santa Claus bestows, and the one who pays is Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen.

That constant flow of pennies from the pockets of all of us, however, has proven insufficient, and now that hidden taxes have failed to stop Uncle Sam's ledger from being written all over with red ink, Uncle Sam is thinking he might just as well take the money needed out of the pay envelope rather than slipping it out in hidden taxes.

It may be so that when Uncle Sam does slap an income tax on the small fellow that the small fellow will wake up and realize that Uncle Sam is not Santa Claus in disguise.
 Lieutenant Charles Phinney and Lieutenant James V. Simpson are becoming accomplished in various lines. Lately they have been writing a highly interesting and instructive series of safety articles which have been appearing in the local press. These articles were of interest to not only the man or woman who drove a car but to the others who use the public streets.

Their latest duty is that of instructors for they are now engaged in instructing the members of the civics class of the high school on the problems that confront a police department in a city like Kingston.

Judging from the articles they have been writing on traffic in the city they are both qualified to instruct the younger set on the duties of a police department, and undoubtedly the members of the civics class who have them as instructors will learn something that should prove of value to them.

And what has been said in regard to the police lieutenants may be said of the heads of the various other city departments who have been giving of their time to instruct the students in the various phases of city affairs.
 When the students complete their studies they will realize that running a city is the biggest business in Ulster county, and they will be in a better position to realize what it means to give the citizens efficient public service without increasing the tax rate.

Historic Houses of Kingston

No. 16—Henry V. Masten House.

A great deal of research has failed to bring forth too much information concerning the Henry V. Masten house, located on a St. James street directly across from the Ulster Foundry, but a glance at the structure will show anyone that it is one of the older houses of Kingston.
 According to the records of the late Everett Fowler, to whom the writer is indebted for much of the information already published, this two-story stone house was the residence of Henry V. Masten in 1820, and since there are no indications in the way of charred timbers to show that the dwelling was ever burned, it is rather a safe assertion that this place was not built until after the Revolutionary War period, and probably quite near the beginning of the 19th century.

At the present time the house is the property of Mrs. William R. Kraft, and is occupied by four families. The walls are of the usual limestone, about 20 inches thick, and a long hallway runs directly through the main part of the house from the front door. The house came into possession of Mrs. Kraft in 1908 when it was purchased from the Van Keuren estate.
 The main building is quite a large structure, and judging from appearance has not been altered much since its construction. A frame addition has been placed on the rear wall to accommodate the additional families, but this is not apparent from the street.

A search of the outer walls disclosed no markings which would indicate the date of construction or the name of the original builder—so once again a lack of definite information has curtailed the recording of the history of one of Kingston's older houses.
 (Note—Any person in possession of information concerning the historic houses of Kingston, is invited to communicate with the Historic House Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman, and if possible, arrangements will be made for a picture and an article to appear in this series.)

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This town seems to have rejected the monocle. A few years ago the more daring of the tycoons, social captains, and professional first nighters adopted the single glass as the last major achievement in linking old world culture to the new. But that was at a time when the ordinary New Yorker was assailed by hard times, shrinking incomes, and the possibility of being thrown out of work. Then came the upswing and the monocle was swept overboard with the depression. Whereas one formerly encountered half a dozen in an evening—sometimes worn by sincere persons but frequently by the posers and brash nitwits who wanted to assume the nonchalance of a George Arliss—there remains now no trace of it. I haven't seen a single one in over a year.

THE founder of New York's first French provisions counter—an innovation which has caught on quickly here—is Charles LeSeuer, the unpredictable son of an unpredictable family which has left its trademark in more than one corner of the world.

Let me rehash a fragment of the LeSeuer family history for you: Charles' great-great grandfather was one of France's greatest painters... Another branch of the family founded a famous musical conservatory there... Charles himself was born on the Isle of Jersey... His family moved to Minnesota and in no time a county, a mountain, a lake, and a town bore the family name.

Then Charley LeSeuer broke away from the Minnesota holdings, came to New York, and developed into an executive of the world-famous Park & Tilford company. He is supervisor of all the stores of that international chain.

He is also Joan Crawford's uncle. You'll remember her name once was LeSeuer, pronounced Le-Swar.

NOW he has introduced to New York the last word in de luxe French provisions, which is what the French provision counter really is. But there is this distinction: There is no clerk behind the counter. The man there is a trained chef. His wares include delectables which the delicatessen store would never have—the very choicest of shellfish foods already prepared. It specializes in the breasts of chickens and pheasants... Its hors d'oeuvres are numberless and exciting... It is, really, a Christmas pudding of fabulous delicacies, stuffed and ready for the plumping.

A poke in the eye and a bloody nose doesn't always spell defeat. This happened to a New York scribe some time ago and the courts awarded him $2,000.

Greeting The Crow

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"MANY happy returns of the day, Christopher Columbus Crow!" shouted the little gnomelike man Willy Nilly. Then the other Puddle Muddlers all quacked and bleated and barked and crowed and growled their greetings.

Christopher Columbus Crow came down from his nest in the pine tree and cocking his head to one side cawed: "This is such a surprise!"

"Oh no, Christopher," cackled Top Notch in his practical rooster fashion, "it is not a surprise. You know we are celebrating our birthdays at this time of the year and it is your turn today."

"Well, I'm surprised to be greeted with an array like this," cawed Christopher, as he saw that Willy Nilly had spread a birthday table in front of his house.
 "You knew we'd do something for you," continued Top Notch.
 "But it looks as though you were doing such a great deal!"
 "We'd do a great deal, too," crowed Top Notch. "I am only sorry that through my foolishness your birthday party was delayed."
 "Don't apologize, my rooster friend," cawed Christopher. "It makes me feel better when I find others aren't perfect."

"Now for the party!" cried Willy Nilly. He led Christopher by one wing to the end of the birthday table where there was a chair decorated with leaves and ears of corn.

"Could I eat some of the decorations?" Christopher asked.
 "You may do anything you wish!" said Willy Nilly. "It's your birthday and you're a privileged crow."

Tomorrow—Present!

Amateurs Called To Aid Television Development Plan

A planned program of technical cooperation between America's licensed radio amateurs and the laboratories in which television development is now being carried on, is announced in the December issue of "QST", the magazine of the American Radio Relay League.

Stating that "amateur radio provides the logical experimental proving ground for new developments between their laboratory stage and their attainment of widespread practical utility," James J. Lamb, technical editor, outlined a plan for amateur participation in future television research.

The amateur's place in the current television picture results from the combination of his numbers and his technical knowledge. The new television, although acceptable in the laboratory, is far from ready for general use in the field. It is in the process of transformation from the precise and limited delineations of laboratory technique into widespread popular utilization that the amateur becomes a worker of unique value.

"Radio history repeats itself," according to the Lamb announcement. "The experimental activities of licensed amateurs in radio telephony supplied the initial impetus and acceleration for sound broadcasting in the early 1920's. Now, over 15 years later, we radio amateurs have immediately before us the same opportunity to aid the progress of modern television development and perform an important public service in traditional amateur fashion."

The significance placed on amateur cooperation in television research is based on the fact of the advanced technical knowledge necessarily possessed by licensed amateurs and their already great familiarity with the ultra-short-wave region, where television activities occur.

In contrast to early radio receivers, even the simpler television sets are so complex that only skilled technicians will be capable of building them. The average "handy-man" even though he may be perfectly able to assemble a 4 or 5 tube aural radio set, will be at a hopeless loss when confronted with the maze of complexities in a 25 or 35 tube television receiver.

Here is where the licensed amateur steps into the picture. Equipped by training and experience with the necessary theoretical and practical background, he requires only a relatively small superstructure of special television knowledge before he can engage in practical television construction. This additional video education is being provided by a series of practical educational and construction articles, beginning in the December issue of "QST" and continuing until the plans for a complete television receiver with high standards of performance will have been presented.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, New York regional director of the Social Security Board, today announced the appointment of Hugh P. McKenna as federal old age insurance representative in New York state.

Mr. McKenna will act as liaison representative between the Washington social security office and the New York regional office on all matters pertaining to the old age insurance program, and will be in charge of old age insurance administration in New York state.

Mr. McKenna is a graduate of Tufts College. After graduation with an A. B. degree, Mr. McKenna spent many years in the insurance business, serving as home representative for the Prudential Insurance Co. and later as manager of the group insurance and group annuity department of the Connecticut General Insurance Co.

The chief activity in public life from now on will be running for the Presidency.

These self-tuning radios would be irresistible if they tuned out the commercial blubs.

Delegates re-elected all officers with the exception of two in the 22nd annual convention concluded yesterday. Eli S. Koplovitz of Troy was named the new fifth vice president and Herman Macdonald of Monticello, eighth vice president.

Continued Safety Urged.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP).—Encouraged by the small automobile death toll in upstate New York over the week-end, the state police traffic division today urged motorists to continue to drive carefully over roads made hazardous by recent snowfall.

Only six traffic deaths were reported, two of which were the result of injuries received in accidents previous to last Saturday.

"Apparently the weather is a better teacher than the traffic department," said Corporal E. P. Merkle, of the state police. "It certainly must have slowed up the drivers."

Full Accord Asked.

Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP).—A resolution affirming full accord with present constitutional provisions for state education was proposed for consideration today by delegates to the annual business meeting of the New York State Education Association.

The resolution was proposed in view of the 1938 constitutional convention and asked that

FOR QUICKER STARTS!

Hoffman Ends
54-Year Career
As Railroad Man

OTTO E. HOFFMAN

Otto E. Hoffman of 58 Hoffman street no longer has to don his overalls and cap for that "daily run" on the New York Central. He's retired now after a stretch of railroad service that began back on April 1, 1883 and ceased last October.

But, Otto Hoffman cannot get away from the "road"—it's in his blood. He just has to stroll up to the West Shore depot to watch the trains roll in and out, or chat with his former co-workers.

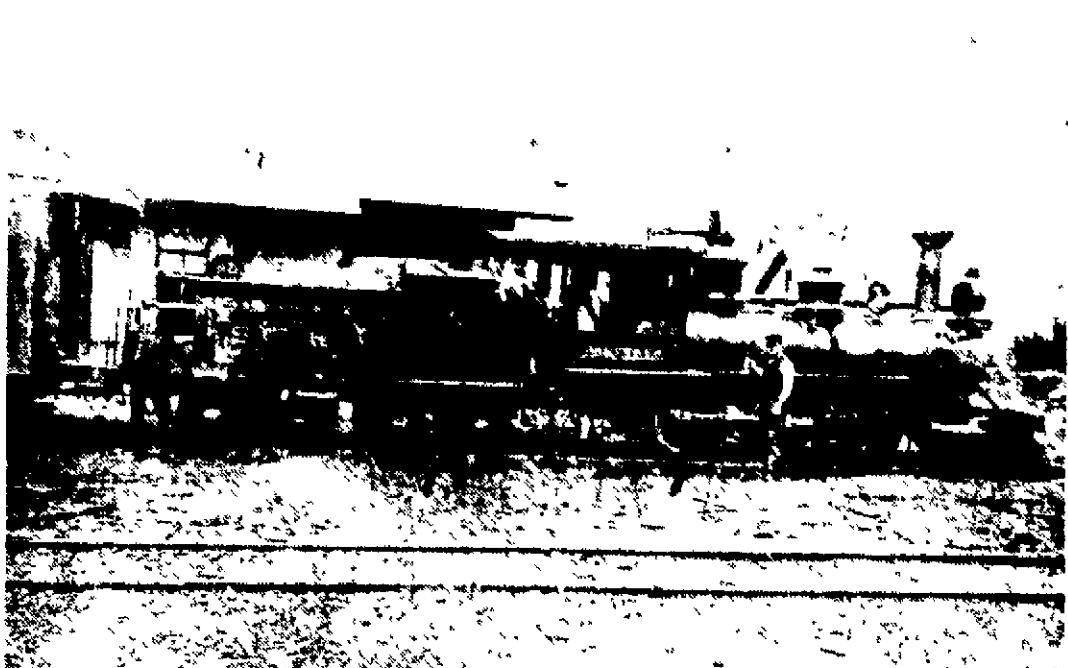

"Yes, I've had plenty of experience," the engineer answered a reporter who talked with him recently. His face beamed as he was asked to recall one of his most cherished recollections.

"Well, there's one thing I always put ahead of all the rest, and that's about Mayor John F. Hyland being my fireman."

Mr. Hoffman delightfully recalled that, he and the former mayor of New York city, now deceased, worked together for two days as an engine crew.

"Yes, Mayor Hyland was my

An "Iron Horse" of the Kaaterskill

Here's the Gretchen named after Rip Van Winkle's wife, one of the up-to-date locomotives back in 1883 when Otto Hoffman started his railroad career on the Kaaterskill line that ran between Phoenix and Hunter. The train crew, Charles Vandemark, Jim Ford, Tom Seely, Otto Hoffman, Warren Todd the engineer, with oil can.

fireman for two days," he said, "but John was too smart to stay rattling, and moved out of the sticks."

That was back in the days of 1883 when Hyland and Hoffman worked together running one of the old-time engines on the Kaaterskill line between Phoenix and Hunter. Hoffman began his 54 years of railroading on that dinky line that ran up the mountain beginning as a water and working his way up to engineer. He held about every position connected with railroading, and remembers all of the changes that modernized the business—coupling systems, track improvements, automatic lubricating, and airbrakes, the latter being the greatest in his estimation.

When the Kaaterskill line was absorbed by the Ulster and Delaware, Hoffman went with it, and later became a part of the transfer to the New York Central.

when that big railroad took over the U. & D. as its mountain division. At the time of his retirement Hoffman worked as engineer on the "pusher engine" of the milk train running between Kingston and Arkville.

The ex-engineer is as keen at remembering names of old associates as he is at recalling the changes in the business. He readily recited off the names of the train crew on the old Gretchen for a reporter who asked to take a look at his photographic collection.

"I know 'em all," he said as he named the figures from left to right. There's Charles Vandemark, Jim Ford, Tom Seely, myself and Warren Todd the engineer and his wife who stood in the cab for this picture.

All of the old locomotives were named for members of the family of Rip Van Winkle. Hoffman informed the writer, and the Gretchen was called after his wife.

Besides his memories to keep him constantly reminded of railroading, Mr. Hoffman keeps busy as secretary of Kingston Lodge 901, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, an office to which he was elected in 1921.

Born in Hunter on February 12, 1867, this 70-year-old railroader with a record to be proud of, removed to Kingston in 1908 and has resided in this city ever since. He has one daughter, Irene Hoffman.

The Chinese fall back, but Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek doubtless has a few things up his sleeve. Look out for a statesman who quotes Confucius.

It's natural for the Japs to invade China. Nearly everything they have in the way of civilization, they got there.

ACCORD
According to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Goddard of California, a very enjoyable supper was served and the tables were made attractive by bouquets of large attractive bronze and white chrysanthemums, donated by Valley Gardens Nurseries. The evening was spent in playing dart ball.

Esopus Youth Treed by Dogs

The summer while they occupy summer homes and then allow the dogs to run loose and become wild. A few days ago they took them back to the city in the fall.

An investigation of this theory is being made and if the officials find the theory to be true and can locate the former owners of such animals and find they have been abandoned steps will be taken to prosecute the owners who abandon the animals to become public nuisances.

Mostly Police Dogs

The theory is supported by the fact that the damage done by dogs usually comes late in the fall after summer places have been closed sufficiently long to have caused the abandoned dogs to become partially starved. One unusual thing appears to be the fact that in all cases brought to the attention of the authorities the animals complained of are police dogs.

A large vicious police dog which attacked Sheriff Molynaux when he approached was killed last week near Kysperke after it had attacked live stock. Evidence of shot in the animal identified it as the dog which had attacked a goat only a few days prior to the time it was shot by the sheriff.

Winter Sports Club.

There will be an important meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Governor Clinton Hotel of the Willwyck Winter Sports Club.

Mayor Endorses Traffic Night

Mr. G. D. Logan, Chairman, Elks Traffic Night Program, Kingston, New York.

Dear Sir:

As Mayor of the City of Kingston, I take pleasure in endorsing the "Traffic Night" program arranged by the Kingston Elks, and on their behalf I invite our citizens to attend the safety demonstration at their lodge rooms tomorrow evening, November 23rd, at 8:00 o'clock.

With the appalling increase in number of deaths and injuries resulting from auto accidents, it is high time that all citizens rally to the support of every effort which has as its principal purpose the reduction of this unnecessary taking of life and property. The Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks has directed the Elks Lodges throughout the nation to set aside a day during November to accomplish this purpose through an appropriate educational safety program. His action to reduce in some degree this needless waste of life should be warmly commended, and the program, sponsored locally by Lodge No. 550, merits the support and attendance of all citizens.

Very truly yours,
C. J. HEISELMAN,
Mayor.

Hasbrouck Jailed After Accident

John Hasbrouck, 24, of New Palz, was fined $100 or 100 days in jail, after his arrest and conviction on a charge of driving while his license was revoked. The sentence was imposed by Judge J. C. Barnes of New Palz following the arrest of the defendant on the Kingston-New Palz road about a mile and a half north of New Palz Sunday.

Unable to pay the fine Hasbrouck was brought to jail.

The arrest followed a collision between a car operated by Hasbrouck and that of John Falvey of 338 Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston. According to the investigation made by the officers Hasbrouck was operating his car on the wrong side of the road when he struck the Falvey machine. Both cars were considerably damaged. The machine being operated by Hasbrouck was registered in his wife's name. He was accompanied by three other young men at the time of the accident, but when Corporal Norman Baker and State Trooper Andy Klein arrived the three men had left the scene.

Trooper Klein arrested Hasbrouck last spring at Wallkill for driving a car while intoxicated and the officer said the license had not been restored. Hasbrouck was formerly a resident of Modena.

BUYS OLD GOLD, BUT ONLY AT HIS STORE.

Sam Barnett, pawnbroker, of 67 North Front street, today complained that buyers of old gold were using his name in traveling throughout the county, thus misleading those who have old gold to sell.

"I have no buyers on the road, asking for old gold," said the Kingston merchant, "but as my advertisement in The Freeman states, I do buy it at my store."

Barnett said it was his opinion that the buyers used his name and those of other local men in the business in order to gain confidence.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE A. JACOBSON

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Although selling was comparatively light, leading stocks topped 1 1/2 points in today's market, many, including U. S. Steel, landing in new low ground for the past 2 years or longer. A few inactives lost as much as 9 at the worst.

Mild buying support appeared occasionally and extreme losses were shaded near the final hour, but there was no pickup in volume. Transfers were at the rate of about 1,600,000 shares.

Steels were again under a cloud as mill operations once more slipped.

A downward revision of sales estimate for motor manufacturers, in addition to labor complications, contributed to weakness of stocks in this category. Rubbers were unable to get ahead notwithstanding the calling off of the Good-year strike. This stock, together with U. S. Rubber and Goodrich, retreated with the rest of the list.

In addition to "Big Steel," conspicuous losers included Bethlehem, Youngstown, National Steel, Sloss-Sheffield, Chrysler, General Motors, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, General Electric, du Pont, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Macy, J. I. Chase, Deere, International Harvester, American Telephone, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, North American, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Norfolk & Western, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, Philip Morris and Allis-Chalmers.

Dome Mines edged forward but other gold stocks marked time.

Building Trades Feeling Let-down

In unusually heavy Saturday's trading the stock market rallied, after a week which had set new lows for the industrial and rail stocks, figured on the Dow-Jones averages. The rally was not sufficient, however, to bring the price level up to where it stood at the close of the previous week, except for the utilities. With a total volume of 1,230,000 shares Saturday, industrials gained 2.32 points, to close the week at 120.45; rails were up 0.93 point, to 31.06 and utilities gained 0.24 point, to 21.55.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. plants at Akron were to reopen this morning, following a three-day strike. Unionists having voted to accept a settlement plan worked out between company and union officials Sunday morning.

It is announced that despite the record-breaking cotton crop the RFC will go ahead with the program to make 9-cent loans on cotton. It is estimated that it will take more than $150,000,000 to carry out the loan program.

With the building material trade feeling increasingly the let-down in building operations and the practical cessation of buying for inventory stocking on the part of jobbers and supply houses, manufacturers have revised sharply downward their earnings expectation for the last quarter of the year and the early part of next year. At the close of the third quarter of the year manufacturers reported gains in earnings, compared with last year, running as high as 48 per cent.

The decline in construction activities which set in last summer and resulted in September and October running about a year ago, was the first serious break since the building revival started more than three years ago.

The Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Co., Niagara unit, has postponed indefinitely plans for an $8,000,000 steam generating plant at Buffalo. Reconsideration will await definite improvement in general business conditions.

Hudson Motor Car Saturday declared a dividend of 25 cents. Last previous payment was 25 cents on January 2, 1937.

General Public Utilities, Inc. declared a dividend of $2 common. Last payment on common was $1 on December 23, 1936.

Trade Bank of New York declared a quarterly dividend of 15 cents, first declaration since 1930.

Expenditures of General Motors Corp. during 1937 for safeguarding health of employees will total more than $5,000,000.

Deere & Co., rounding out their centennial year, is reported will show the best year in its history. For the year ended October 31 sales went up about 35 per cent over the preceding year. It is expected that earnings will top 1936 net and may reach those of 1929, the peak year.

Report of Brown Shoe Co., Inc., and subsidiary, shows earnings for year ended October 31, of $793,251, net, equal to $3.20 a share on 247,400 shares of non-par common stock. Comparing with $2.44 a share on 246,500 shares in 1936 year.

The fertility of American farm lands has been consistently improved, rather than depleted as contended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to B. W. Snow, crop expert, who bases his findings on official government reports running back to 1870. He says that use of commercial fertilizers has aided farm lands. Mr. Snow holds that "propaganda of depleted soil fertility, with a background of possible food insufficiency, presents an emotional appeal which is well calculated to whip Congress into a spending frenzy."

Celtic and Gaelic
Webster's dictionary lists the Gaels as the Celtic inhabitants of Scotland, Ireland and the Isle of Man, especially a Scottish Highlander of Gaelic speech; also any member of the Gaelic-speaking branch of the Celts. The Britannica states that the term "Gaelic" in its widest sense is used almost synonymously with "Celtic," and one hears of Irish Gaelic, Scottish Gaelic, etc. The Scottish Gaelic is the form of Gaelic speech which was introduced into Scotland by the Dalriadan Scots from Ireland. There are important divergencies in phonetics and inflections between Irish and Scottish Gaelic. The Gaelic league was founded in 1893 in Dublin, Ireland, to preserve and extend the use of the old Irish language, now the first official language of the Irish Free State.

Students Study City Government

The study of city government at first hand is being continued this week by the civics students in the Kingston high school who are attending classes held by the heads of the various city departments in the city hall each afternoon at 3 o'clock.

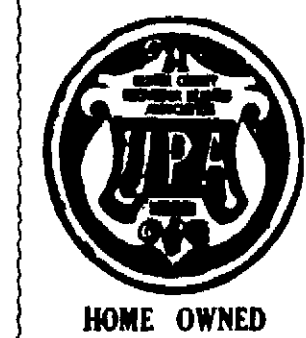

Lieutenant James V. Simpson has been assigned to instruct the scholars in police work this week, while Superintendent Henry Darrow is giving the students instructions in how the city receives its water supply. The work of building streets is being taught by City Engineer James G. Norton and Superintendent David P. Conway of the board of public works.

How the health department functions is being shown by Dr. L. E. Sanford, while the various phases of the work carried on the department is taught by Miss Mildred Schwab, Mrs. Mary O'Neill, Plumbing Inspector Charles H. Gregory, Dr. Harold E. Clarke, Dr. Philip Peley and Sanitary Inspector John Melville.

Later in the year it is expected that the management of city affairs will be turned over to the students for one day at the city hall. The students are to elect their own mayor, city clerk, common council and other city officials.

Think of the British nobility, when rent day rolls around. Many of them hold estates which theoretically still belong to the king. So they pay their grasping royal landlord the terrific rent of—a snowball or a red rose.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Y. W. C. A. Enlarges, Rearranges Space

The Y. W. C. A. on Henry street, which for the past 14 years has played an important part in the lives of over 25,000 women and girls has enlarged its quarters with the acquisition of the ground floor which has been made over into club rooms and a game room. The main floor has also been changed, giving more office space, so that the secretary has her own office, rearranging the club rooms and enlarging the kitchen.

In addition to the re-grouping the rooms have been refurnished and now, upon entering the "Y", one is greatly impressed by its new, smart appearance.

To the right of the entrance hall, the office formerly used by Miss Mathilda Martin is now the office of the General Secretary, Miss Jean Estey. This office is furnished in new maple furniture with modernistic upholstery and new curtains which blend with the color of the furniture. A couch, chairs, lamps and tables, invite one to linger.

The little hall with its table and mirror always reflecting some colorful bouquet on the table, is still in its original form. On the left, the club room, of which Miss Estey formerly had a corner of her office, now consists of the offices of Miss Lillian Herdman, secretary of the Girl Reserves and Miss Martin, office secretary. These also have not missed their share of new and pleasing touches.

The other large club room with the piano remains unchanged except for the fact that it is no longer necessary to disturb meetings being held there in order to pass to the back of the "Y" which houses the gymnasium. This is done by passing through Miss Martin's office and the new hallway beyond that.

The little hallway leads into another new feature—the kitchen, no longer a cubby hole with barely room to move in. From now on three or four cooks can easily prepare anything from simple refreshments to a banquet. From the kitchen lead the stairs to the new department of which all Y. W. C. A. members are justly proud.

The first new feature is the game room in which are two ping pong tables. This room also has facilities for use for picnic suppers and meetings. Opening from the game room are two club rooms, one larger than the other. The larger room has a radio; both have comfortable chairs, table, lamps and magazines. The floors of all three rooms are painted in tile color.

These changes have been only a few weeks in being made and have been well worth the effort. The Y. W. C. A. seems practically new and its delightful and pleasing atmosphere should attract all women and girls to accept the many advantages it has to offer.

The committee in charge of the repairs was comprised of Mrs. Leonard Flicker, Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb, Mrs. Harry B. Walker, Mrs. G. N. Wood, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Miss Jean Estey and Miss Lillian Herdman. They were assisted in the details of equipping the rooms by Mrs. Clyde Hutton, Mrs. John B. Stierley, Mrs. M. Donald, Mrs. Mrs. Arthur Monell and Mrs. C. M. Estey.

an average standing of 2, or above, which is equivalent to a B average, in order to qualify for this recognition. Miss Brown is enrolled as a sophomore this year. Miss Bedesky is enrolled as a senior and is also a member of the French Club, Classical Club and International Relations Club.

Christmas Party Planned

At the last meeting of the Children of Mary Sodality of St. Peter's Church it was decided to hold a Christmas party on the next meeting night, thus postponing the election of officers to the January meeting. The date for this party is Monday evening, December 6, a very appropriate date, for it is the feast day of St. Nicholas. Miss Connie Ringwald, chairman, asks that the committee appointed for this party be present at the school hall this evening at 7:45 o'clock so that arrangements can be made to make this party a social success.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pratt, of 402 Hasbrouck avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna Pratt to Dr. John E. V. Smith, of Oyster Bay, L. I. The wedding will take place in the near future.

Personal Notes

Bert F. MacFadden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. MacFadden, of 281 Washington avenue, a senior at Middlebury College, left Sunday for New York on a two-day field trip conducted by the sociology department.

The group of 45 students will have an opportunity to study a variety of subjects discussed in their courses on social problems, crime, social efficiency, and social psychology. During the trip, the undergraduates will inspect the Stock Exchange, the Cotton Exchange, and the Chamber of Commerce. They will hear a Russian worker describe her people and their problems at the Russian People's Home, and will hold conferences with the workers of the International Institute.

John D. Groves, of West Hurley, attended a re-union dinner of the 303rd Regiment of Engineers at Union City, N. J., on Saturday. Raymond H. Rignall, assistant principal of School No. 6, is rapidly recovering at his home on Fairview avenue, from an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Rignall will be able to be about in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. King, of Fair street, attended the Columbia-Dartmouth football game in New York city on Saturday.

Alfred J. Bruckert and Edward Sylvester attended the St. John's Army "Breather" for Army at West Point on Saturday.

Early Use of Osage Orange

In the early days farmers turned to osage orange for wood to make fellows (or rums) of wagon wheels. Pioneer wives used to make a yellow dye from the wood of the tree, while a tanning mixture can be made from the bark. Indians used the osage as wood for their bows. The tree was called Bois d'Arc (wood of the bow) by the French in the South. So valuable was an osage bow that sometimes a horse and a blanket represented the price of a good one of excellent grain and finish.

W. C. T. U. Held Session Thursday

The meeting of the Kingston Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held Thursday afternoon in St. James M. E. Church, and presided over by the president, Mrs. George Shullis, was a very interesting one. Mrs. J. D. Van Kleeck conducted the worship period. In the business session Mrs. George B. Mead, as head of the literature department, reported that large donations of literature had been distributed. Mrs. John B. Steketee of the motion picture department reviewed briefly the recent production, "The Life of Emile Zola," with its strong appeal for truth and justice. The following members were appointed a committee for Christmas baskets: Mrs. J. B. Myers, Mrs. John Van Kleeck, Mrs. O. B. Smith and Mrs. Andrew Keefe. The program committee for the year will consist of Mrs. J. B. Steketee, Mrs. Thomas Edmonstone and Mrs. Elizabeth Saulpaugh. The program for the day was opened by Mrs. Kate Covert, who read a paper on "Christian Citizenship." In this she urged the women to attend court and thus acquaint themselves with court procedure. In the discussion that followed Mrs. George Shullis and the Rev. Arthur Carroll gave their experiences of attending court, and agreed that much of the social and harrowing evidence should not be open to the public. "Clams for Drinking" were then presented in the lesson study of the day, by Mrs. J. B. Myers, who also presented the refutations of these claims. "That alcohol is a stimulant, and a cocktail gives the drinker a 'lift' at the end of a busy day." But "Science" says: "The effect of alcohol is wholly that of a depressant, making less active the powers of the nervous system, and also the important functions of digestion, liver, heart and blood vessels." It is also claimed that beer is made from barley and sugar and yeast and is a food like bread. But the characteristic actions of alcohol are that it dissolves and dries and neither of these actions conserve life. The process of fermentation destroys the nourishing qualities in grain and fruits—both of which in their natural state are foods. Another claim quoted by Mrs. Myers is that one glass of beer or wine will do no harm. But the three teaspoonful of alcohol in an ordinary glass of beer, or the 10 in an ordinary glass of wine are habit-forming.

After this informing study the meeting voted to adjourn. The W. C. T. U. prayer was offered.

6 REFORMED PASTORS BURIED IN PORT EWEN CEMETERY

The Rev. Cornelius H. Polhemus, who was recently buried in Riverview Cemetery, Port Ewen, was the sixth Reformed minister buried in that cemetery. The first was the Rev. Wesley Taylor, the first pastor of the Port Ewen Reformed Church, buried in 1882. The second was the Rev. Abram H. Myers, buried in 1886. He was the second pastor of the Reformed Church. The third one was the Rev. Jacob N. Voorhis, buried in 1889. He was pastor of the Reformed Church at Ulster Park for a number of years. The fourth was the Rev. Solomon T. Cole, who was born at Ulster Park, but died in Kingston, buried in 1917. The fifth one was the Rev. Frank T. Reynolds, born at Ulster Park, but died in New Jersey, buried in 1936.

Elks Sponsor Traffic Night

Upon Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Elk's Club on Fair street will occur the Elk's "Traffic Night" program. The evening will be dedicated to an inquiry into the causes resulting in one of the most tragic problems of modern times, the wholesale killing and maiming of people through automobile accidents. All of the local civic and patriotic organizations have been invited to participate, as well as the public. Mayor Heiselman and Judge Culliton have been extended invitations and are expected to be present. Past Exalted Ruler George Dewey Logan has secured a notable array of speakers. Included are the Hon. Carroll E. Mealey, deputy commissioner of motor vehicles of the state of New York, the Hon. Cleon B. Murray, district attorney of Ulster county and Lieut. Hervey Keator of the New York State Troopers. Actual photographs will be displayed through the courtesy of Brother Albert

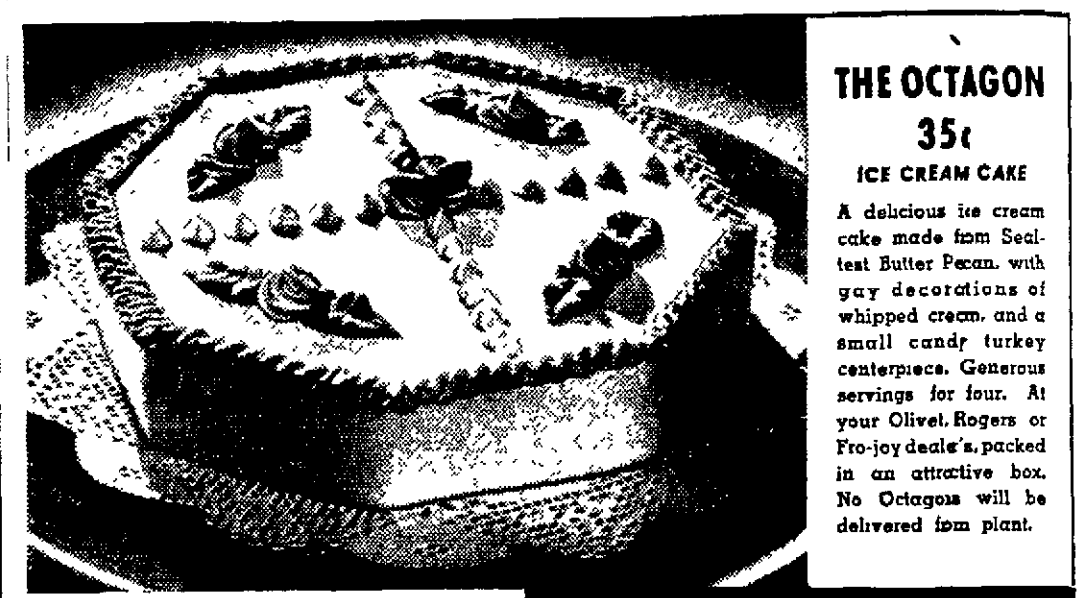

Cook and a film shown through the courtesy of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation. The program of Tuesday evening marks the participation of Kingston Lodge in the Elk's national safety campaign. Last year 37,400 people were killed and 1,300,000 injured through automobile accidents. The Elk's feel that a solution of this problem calls for the united efforts of all civic and patriotic agencies of the community. For this reason it is hoped that much interest will be manifested in this program.

So this is why one Baxter twin has her pick of partners—and the other's stuck in the dressing-room half the time.

June follows Dick into the tricky Pivot Turn with never a fumble. She learned this and other smart fox-trot steps from simple diagrams at home.

But May, who does her practicing on the dance floor, is simply paralyzed whenever Bob tries anything fancier than the dance-walk. And what boy wants to be made to look so ridiculous. Not one!

So perfect your dance steps, be so good you welcome the dizziest dips and turns.

You can easily whirl from a walk into a pivot by following our diagram. Beginning with the right foot, walk forward on counts 1, 2, 3. On count 4 toe out with the left foot, start turning to the left.

Continue to turn—as you place the right foot forward on count 5, transfer weight to left on count 6, and step back with right on count 7. On count 8, you'll be facing the same way you started and taking the first step with your left in a dance-walk.

Just as simple as the Dip, so popular in the Westchester, or Slow Fox-trot. The man steps back with his left foot, slightly bends the left knee as he follows smoothly, dipping forward with your right.

Be a smooth, airy waltzer, too. Be at ease in the dreamy tango, the dashing rumba. You can easily teach yourself to be a superb dancer with the help of our 10-page booklet, SOCIAL DANCING SELF-TAUGHT. Diagrams and instructions show you just how to place your feet to keep time, to lead and follow. A complete course by a well-known teacher.

Send 15c for our booklet, SOCIAL DANCING SELF-TAUGHT, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Luxury in Lace

Tea rose chiffon and ivory Alencon lace make something frivolous in lingerie for a Christmas gift. It combines a nightdress slimly fitted at the waistline with a bed jacket having a deep cape which ties in front.

Cost $15 to Hit Woman with Brick

Mack McGill, 33, a negro of 155 Abeel street, found that it is rather expensive to toss a brick at a woman when it cost him $15 at a woman court this morning when arraigned before Judge Culliton on a charge of assault in the third degree.

Sunday night about 11 o'clock the police department received a telephone call that a fight was in progress on Jansen avenue, and the radio car responded. McGill was arrested and Nancy Lowery, a negro of Abeel street, was taken to the Kingston Hospital where it required three stitches to close a wound on the side of her head when she had been struck with the brick.

Donald Barley of 60 Merritt avenue was fined $2 for operating a car without having the necessary operator's license.

Fred Novak and Michael Pitlock, both of New York city, arrested for panhandling on Broadway this morning, were sentenced to 10 days each in jail, but serving of the sentence was suspended provided they got out of town within an hour.

Will Probe Death Of H. E. Coffin at Georgia Estate

Sea Island, Ga., Nov. 22 (AP).—The death of Howard E. Coffin, textile operator and pioneer in the automobile industry, was the subject of an inquest today.

Coffin was found dead of a bullet wound in the bedroom of his winter home yesterday by J. D. Compton, general manager of the Sea Island Company, who explained he called to discuss a deer hunt they had planned for today. A deer rifle lay nearby. A bullet had struck Coffin, chairman of the board of the Sea Island Company, squarely in the face.

"It apparently was an accident which happened as Mr. Coffin prepared to clean or inspect his gun for our deer drive," Compton said.

Coffin, 64, years old, was married last June in New York to the former Miss Gladys Baker, a newspaper writer, a native of Brunswick, Ga. She was enroute here today from New York. Coffin's first wife, Miss Matilda V. Allen, of Battle Creek, Mich., died in 1932.

Coffin, one of the developers of this resort area, was born in Milton, Ohio and educated at the University of Michigan. The Olds Company of Lansing, Mich., named him its chief engineer in 1905. After other connections he joined the Hudson Motor Company in 1910 and served as vice-president and consulting engineer until 1930.

Coffin left the automotive field in 1930 to become chairman of the board of Southeastern Cottons, Inc., and spent much time in New York in the interests of textile operators.

HOME BUREAU

Moderns, Nov. 22.—The Moderns Home Bureau unit met on Friday in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. An all-day meeting was scheduled, but discussions of projects were not underway until after the pot-luck luncheon was served. Reports and announcements were then given, and a letter of appreciation was read from Miss Marion Palmer, who received a gift of flowers from the Home Bureau unit, during her recent stay in the Cornwall Hospital. In the afternoon Mrs. Frank Black read an article prepared by Dr. Frank Laidlaw, on the "Control of Pneumonia". Many interesting notes were added by Mrs. Black as she listened to the lecture given by Dr. Laidlaw on the subject, and which she repeated to the Home Bureau members. Questions were invited, and when completed they will be sent to Dr. Laidlaw, who will answer them personally, and they will be read at the next meeting of the pneumonia project.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Black's reading and report, the "Flower arrangement" project was demonstrated by Mrs. Wygant Courter and Mrs. Joseph Hasbrouck. Mrs. Courter placed on exhibit a miniature window winter garden, which was greatly admired. The garden was composed of frame-work and glass, in the form of an aquarium. In the bottom was placed pebbles, leaf mold, and various specimens of native moss. On these tiny plant life was planted, and transplanted, the results being highly satisfactory, as bright berries intermingled with fern fronds, cacti, "hen-and-chickens", etc. A small mirror, with a miniature bridge, gave the effect of a pool, and added to the attractiveness of the "garden". Water sprayed on the garden occasionally, supplies correct atmospheric conditions, in the almost air-tight compartment, and a northern exposure is advisable, as sunlight has a tendency to wilt the plant life.

Mrs. Hasbrouck and Mrs. Courter arranged bouquets of different types, and gave points on general floral decorations which they had prepared. January 12, "Grooming", received from Miss Lucille Smith, Cornell specialist, in her recent lecture and demonstration of the subject. Wild carol, "Creeping Charlie", blended artistically with berries of bright hue, sumac, and bitter-sweet. Milk weed pods were dipped in solutions of silvery hue, the inner portion enameled in orange.

It was decided that the next meeting of the unit be conducted Wednesday, December 15, in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, when an all day meeting will be in session, with the usual attractive pot-luck lunch. Projects will be "Food Preparations" with Mrs. Wygant Courter and Mrs. Orville Seymour, leaders; "Understanding Others" with Mrs. Edgar Clarke, of Milton, speaker. Mrs. Clarke needs no introduction to the Home Bureau members, who look forward keenly to an interesting session of the subject on hand.

Members also are making reservations for the annual banquet of Farm and Home Bureau, and 4-H Clubs at Kingston, the week following Thanksgiving. The local unit has made its annual contribution to the scholarship fund, and the American Red Cross. Many memberships have been renewed, and those who have failed to do so at this time are urged to send in their dues in order that a pleasing report may be given by the membership committee.

At the December meeting plans will be made for the annual Christmas party to be given. On January 11, 18, 21, 25, 28, lessons on the making of "clothing" will be given by Miss Everlee Parsons, home demonstration agent, and those wishing to take advantage of this course are requested to enroll at an early date. The type taught, "Only members enrolling will be notified of meetings on the clothing project." "Pneumonia Control" will be continued, January 26, "Foods" will hold forth, with local leaders demonstrating; and further steps in "Understanding Others" with Mrs. Clarke telling us how it is done. February 2, when weather prognosticators hold forth, our "Kitchen Cupboards" will be under suspicion and discussed freely; the third lesson on "Foods" will be given February 9, by Mesdames Courter and Seymour. February 23, county-wide meeting at Kingston, March 2 will find the group intent on "Grooming", after which the annual election of officers will be made. The final lesson on "Pneumonia Control" will be given on March 23, and a lesson on "Salads" by Miss Parsons. Three consecutive lessons, April 13, 27 and May 11, on "Understanding Others" will qualify us to attend the annual picnic on June 8.

Those attending Friday's meeting at the hall were Mrs. Winfield Jenkins, Mrs. Grace Longfo, Mrs. Marshall Lawrie, Mrs. George Rank, Mrs. Harry Sutton, Mrs. Joseph Hasbrouck, Mrs. Ella Ostrander (visitor), of Clintonville; Miss Emma Palmer, Mrs. Eber Palmer, Mrs. Eber Coy, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, of Ardella; Mrs. Christian Matheson, Miss Glenzie Wager, Mrs. Cornelia Taylor, Mrs. Ella Kohler (Kingston visitor), Mrs. Joseph Hasbrouck, Mrs. Orville Seymour, Mrs. Frank Black, Mrs. Wygant Courter, Mrs. Ransel Wager, Mrs. William Doultle.

FORDHAM RAMS DO SOME BALL FLIPPING

Here's a St. Mary's taffer who thought he'd stopped a Fordham play in the second quarter of the Gael-Ram gridiron contest in the Polo Grounds, N. Y., until the New Yorkers began to toss the ball around. Just as the St. Mary's man dove to tackle Halfback Joe Granski (56) as the latter skirted end, the Fordham man latered back to End Johnny Druze (1) and the Rams gained ten more yards. Jim Crowley's team remained unbeaten by downing Slip Madigan's charges 6-0.

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Harvard men in New York who couldn't make the big game celebrated the smashing victory over Yale by hiring a band to parade in front of the Yale Club playing "Our Director" and other Crimson favorites. Standing in the rain on the other side of the street, the Harvard guys got a big kick out of watching the old and young Blues hurrying to close the windows. Best sports cartoon of the week was Willard Mullins' in the World-Telegram, showing Babe Ruth filling out an unemployment card. John Montague isn't exactly in the chips right now but he turned down a check for $200 for expenses in his charity match for New York's kids.

Plenty of football addicts Saturday, Colgate looking Syracuse made this column look good. But what about Texas Christian putting Rise down? We picked Purdue over Indiana in the pool, but didn't have the nerve to do it in print. Stanford is the team that really let us down. We thought it had a real chance to upset California despite what Ship Madigan said. Billie Calhoun in the Rose Bowl and they'll pick Pitt. If Pitt doesn't get it Saturday, somebody ought to make that "Hook" myth down at Lafayette a cavewalker offer. Boy, he takes it.

"Dutch" Clark, of the Detroit Lions says he always figures on three sets of guards when his team goes against Bronko Nagurski. Sam Chapman doesn't get many rays notices in the papers, but roasters who know say he is the chap who really makes Calhoun's powerhouse click. Rogers Hornsby will go to the Milwaukee baseball meeting looking for a manager's job in the minor leagues. When Mr. McElhinney of the star center of the New York Giants, went to a dancing academy to learn the hip apple, she found her partner and instructor was Count Woronoff of the South Russia Woronoffs. What would like to see an over-the-weight bout between Henry Armstrong and Percy Sartori.

Out at the University of South Dakota they don't know whether to beam or look sheepish over the success of Leonard (Stub) Allison's California Bears. You see, South Dakota started Allison on his way to Lumb back in 1928 with a put on the back (come to points) after his team won only 10 major games in five seasons. Stub took 'em by slapping up instead of down. When Clemson beat Florida the other day over possible means of getting out of the game, South Dakota was a tough touchdown. Florida taught a Clem on back, behind the goal line for a safety and Clemson's Ben Pearson kicked a point after touchdown and a field goal.

Tiny Townsend, Irving Van Kleeck and Buddy Emerson, all of Kingston, and Sergeant Perry, of West Point, will represent this region in the Diamond Belt boxing tournament at Odd Fellows Hall, Albany, tonight.

Only 10 Major Teams Stay On the Undeclared List

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—The football world saluted California, Minnesota and Dartmouth today as first of the country's major 1937 sectional champions and then turned to a mass of unfinished business, most of which will be disposed of in this week's double program.

Some 55,000 fans looked on at Palo Alto last week as California's Golden Bears smashed through Stanford, 13-0, captured the Pacific Coast Conference crown for the first time since 1928, won the right to represent the Far West in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's Day, and wound up a regular season marked only by a tie with Washington, the 1936 Conference titleholder.

Minnesota, beaten by Nebraska and Notre Dame in major upsets, nevertheless salvaged the Big Ten championship out of the wreckage by brushing aside Wisconsin's Badgers, 13-6, to complete an unbeaten conference campaign.

Yale's defeat at the hands of a well-drilled, effective Harvard machine, 13-6, and the 6-0 beating Montana took from Idaho reduced the list of major undefeated contenders to ten. Of these the east contributors are Lafayette, Pitt, Fordham, Villanova, Dartmouth and Holy Cross. The others are California, Colorado, Alabama and Santa Clara. Lafayette, Dartmouth and California all have completed their schedules but each of the others has one more hurdle to vault.

Practical, Practicable

Practical means that which is adapted to actual conditions;

that which experience has proved to be useful. While the others were wondering what to do, Jones took practical steps to stop the leak in the boat. Evangeline was a dreamer,

Joan a practical kind of girl. Practicable denotes that which may be practiced, used, or followed with good results. Some solutions to material problems are all right in theory, but are not practicable in actual practice; in other words they cannot be carried out. To leave a room all you need to do is to go out by the door—but if the door is locked on the outside that method of leaving is impracticable.

The government is trying to determine whether "redcaps" and similar employees of railway stations are subject to the railroad

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "All Baba Goes to Town." In a musical comedy that pokes fun with a shy determination at the American national scene, "All Baba Goes to Town" at the Broadway with Eddie Cantor leading the procession. It's a typical Cantor film with much music, much laughter and the usual quota of pretty girls parading around in effective costumes. In this one Mr.
Cantor has a dream and it takes him to the exotic east where he tells a Sultan how to achieve prosperity by modern methods.
During the festivities, camera illusion makes it possible for the star to fly about on a magic carpet and he sings and jests his way from one situation into another. The show is satisfying entertainment, dressed up with a fair that should appeal to audiences. Others in the cast are:
June Lang, Tony Martin, Roland
Young and Louise Ivovick, John Carraidine and Alan Deliaert. A 20th Century-Fox presentation.

Kingsport: "The Perfect Specimen." In an effort to create the same sparkling mood of the now famous "It Happened One Night", this First National production is taken from the same author with the talented Michael Curtiz as director. Although it fails to achieve its purpose completely the play is nevertheless a humorous and romantic drama of the woman-chases-man school of drama. The cast is headed by Errol Flynn and others include
Joan Blondell, Edward Everett
Horton, Beverly Roberts, Dick
Foran, Hugh Herbert and Allen Jenkins. Here is a light and breezy bit of nonsense made enjoyable through the work of the feature players.

Orpheum: "Call It a Day" and
"Rhythm of the Clouds." Olivia
DeHavilland, Ian Hunter, Roland
Young, Frieda Inescort and Anita Louise are among the featured players in the first film at the Orpheum, a laugh fest without a dull moment while Patricia Ellis and Warren Hull are seen to advantage in the second feature, a musical number that is also occasional humor.

Tomorrow

Kingsport: "Partners in Crime" and "Behind the Mike." Politics mix with gayety in the opening attraction at the Kingston with the laugh team of Lynn Overman and Roscoe Karns in the roles of a couple of snoopers who get into a lot of difficulty both at home and with the general public. "Behind the Mike" is the story of a small town broadcasting station and of a big city announcer who comes there to take the place over.

William Gargan, Sterling Halloway and Judith Barrett are featured.

usual sight. Three visitors filed majestically out of the building and they made no attempt to stop them. They were three skunks.

Mr. G. A. Burn, the automotive engineer who supervised these tests, says in his report:

"The Arrowbile was serviced with regular Blue Sunoco and Sunoco Winter Oil before being placed in the huge refrigeration room. The engine was a 1936 Studebaker Commander motor. After hours of experience in 15° below zero cold, the engine was started in two-fifths of a second. Mr. Earl E.

Moore and Mr. Smith Bender of the Studebaker Corporation acted as observers and timing was checked by Mr. Earl Drake of the Western Union Telegraph Company."

Deer Runs Wild In Kingston Streets-

This Buck Deer Too
Tough; Breaks a Window; Hits Car

There was considerable excitement in the uptown business section this afternoon when a buck deer was found strolling through the yard of the First Dutch Church. Pedestrians made an effort to corner the deer back of the Montgomery Ward store on Fair street, but the animal was too agile and got away and flushed across the street plunging through the large plateglass window of the uptown postoffice. Shaking the shattered glass from its head, the animal backed out of the window and started over John street into Wall street where it collided with a truck.
